

Exploiting task constraints for self-calibrated brain-machine interface control using error-related potentials

Dear Dr. Lebedev,

We have just finished the revised version of our manuscript. We would like to thank the reviewers and the editorial board for the valuable comments and suggestions to improve the paper. We have carefully addressed their remarks and answered their questions. Among these, please note that we have change the title of the paper (see above).

Looking forward to hearing from you soon,

Iñaki Iturrate